UFCW 21 Secretary-Treasurer:

Effective immediately, I resign membership in all levels of United Food & Commercial Workers Local 21.

As a nonmember, I request that you immediately cease deduction of that portion of my dues which are not germane to the negotiation or administration of the collective bargaining agreement, in accordance with the U.S. Supreme Court's decisions in Communication Workers of America v. Beck and Abood v. Detroit Board of Education. I request further to be provided with audited documentation of the union's chargeable and nonchargeable expenses, in accordance with Chicago Teachers v. Hudson.

This objection is permanent and continuing in nature and should be honored for as long as I remain in the bargaining unit.

Since I am continuing to pay for the "representation" portion of my dues, I understand that the union will continue to represent me fairly and without discrimination in all matters subject to collective bargaining. I understand that I cannot be denied any benefits, including health care, pension, step increases, etc., under the labor contract with my employer because of non-membership in the union.

I trust that you will act promptly to properly observe my constitutional rights.

WHAT TO EXPECT NEXT

You should receive some acknowledgement of your resignation from the union within a few weeks.

Because dues collection is central to the union business model, you may get a sales pitch to talk you into signing up again. Sometimes the sales pitch includes untrue claims and scare tactics. Ask to have any questionable claims documented in writing.

Some unions have tricked members into signing a promise to never resign except during a small window of time. If the union claims you have signed such a form. Contact Opt Out Today for additional guidance.
